Section 1:

Unit of competency

The CHC Community Services Training Package was developed by the Community Services and Health Industry Skills Council in consultation with industry stakeholders including employers, unions, peak bodies, professional associations, regulatory bodies, registered training organisations (RTOs) and other relevant parties. The training package specifies the skills and knowledge required to perform effectively in the workplace.

Individual units of competency are nationally agreed statements that describe work outcomes and can stand alone when applied in the workplace.

This section outlines the requirements of the unit of competency CHCECE002 Ensure the health and safety of children and other information relevant to it.

It contains the following information:

- 1.1 Elements of competency and performance criteria
- 1.2 Assessment requirements
- 1.3 Dimensions of competency
- 1.4 Foundation skills
- 1.5 Skill sets
- 1.6 Recognition of prior learning (RPL)
- 1.7 Glossary of terms

1.1 Elements of competency and performance criteria

The elements of competency define the skills required to perform a work activity. They describe the required outcomes that need to be assessed.

The performance criteria define the level of skill necessary to achieve the requirements of the element.

The following table maps the content in the Aspire learner guide CHCECE002 Ensure the health and safety of children to the unit of competency.

CHCECE002 Ensure the health and safety of children	Where covered in the learner guide

2.1 Training and assessment strategy

Training organisations must develop a training and assessment strategy for each training program they deliver. The training and assessment strategies developed and implemented by an RTO must take into account and be contextualised to:

- the needs of the learner or learner group
- the learning context
- the requirements of the training package.

RTOs must:

- meet the requirements of the training package including language, literacy and numeracy requirements
- document information according to AQTF or VET Quality Framework audit requirements
- meet the needs of particular target groups
- provide learning pathways
- seek input from industry and other relevant stakeholders.

Structuring a training program

The following checklist outlines the type of information you may wish to include in your training and assessment strategy:

- Details of the training organisation, including the contact person
- The unit/s of competency to be delivered in the program of study
- Pathways
- The learner or target group
- Delivery mode/s
- Training resources including facilities required for delivery and assessment, and other infrastructure requirements
- Methods of assessment and evidence gathering
- Program duration and delivery schedule
- Session locations including workplace assessment information
- Delivery and assessment staff
- Assessment validation process

2.2 Training strategies

The following training strategies can be used to deliver CHCECE002 Ensure the health and safety of children. These strategies, including the time allocations, are suggestions only. You may need to add to them, change them or substitute your own activities according to the interest level, experience of the learners and the specific situation. Remember; it is your responsibility as the trainer to use the most appropriate strategies for your learners.

You may wish to discuss recognition of prior learning processes with learners at this stage.</li> </ul>
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ Discuss with learners the importance of identifying the foundation skills that they develop as they progress through this unit. Appendix 2 of the learner guide provides useful advice regarding foundation skills. The learner guide includes a template where learners may record the activities they have performed that relate to specific foundation skills; this template can be found following the final assessment.</li> </ul>
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ Encourage learners to develop a personal glossary to record any terms that are new to them. They should record a definition and use the term in the correct context. The personal glossary could be included in a portfolio of evidence for assessment.</li> </ul>
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ Encourage learners to maintain a learning journal as they undertake this unit of study. They should use the learning journal to record their workplace experience, their reflections on their learning, feedback they receive from trainers, supervisors, clients and their more experienced colleagues and their self-assessment of their performance in the workplace. Advise learners whether their learning journal could form a component of their assessment in this unit. The journal could be used when undertaking practical workplace activities, but may also be used for all knowledge and skill development activities such as class assignments, tests and research tasks set by the trainer. The journal can also record trainer and assessor feedback of formative and summative assessments; that is, the learner's progress towards achievement of the unit of competency.</li> </ul>
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ The journal provides an opportunity for learners to demonstrate critical thinking, problem solving and higher cognitive skills as well as providing evidence of the achievement of required knowledge and skill. Learning journal activities can encourage collaborative learning within a group and encourage learners to take responsibility for their own learning.</li> </ul>

3.1 Alternative final assessment

Your trainer or assessor may require you to complete this assessment activity and will provide you with instructions as to how to present your responses. They may adjust the assessment activity depending on the circumstances of your training program.

The following activity forms part of your assessment of competence. You may also be required to demonstrate your skills and/or provide various workplace documents or third-party reports. Your trainer will give you guidance in this area.

The following table maps this final assessment activity against the elements and performance criteria of CHCECE002 Ensure the health and safety of children.

Requirements

To complete this assessment activity, you need:

- access to a children's services environment
- to complete the tasks outlined in Part A, Part B, Part C and Part D and submit responses as directed by your trainer/assessor/training organisation

Gathering evidence

Evidence can be gathered through:

- real work/real-time activities through observation and third-party reports
- structured activities.

Evidence can also be gathered through:

- formative assessments: where assessment is progressive throughout the learning process and validated along the way by the trainer – also known as assessment for learning
- summative assessment: where assessment is an exercise or simulation at the end of the learning process – also known as assessment of learning.

Evaluating evidence

The following steps may help you evaluate evidence.

Step 1: Evidence is gathered.

Step 2: Rules of evidence are applied – evidence is valid, sufficient, current and authentic.

Step 3: Evidence meets the full requirements of the unit/s of competency.

Step 4: The assessment process is valid, reliable, fair and flexible.

Step 5: The trainer or assessor makes a straightforward and informed judgment about the candidate and completes assessment records.

3.8 Assessment records

Learners must provide evidence of how they have complied with the performance and knowledge evidence requirements outlined in the unit of competency. These requirements should be assessed in the workplace or in a simulated workplace; assessment conditions are specified in each unit of competency.

You can use the following assessment forms to record the learner's evidence of competency:

- The assessment instructions checklist helps the trainer/assessor provide clear instructions to the candidate as to which assessment activities to complete.
- The pre-assessment checklist helps the trainer determine if the learner is ready for assessment.
- The self-assessment record allows the learner to assess their own abilities against the requirements of the unit of competency.
- The recognition of prior learning interview questions help the trainer match the learner's previous training, work or life experience to the requirements of the unit/s of competency.
- The performance evidence checklist facilitates the observation process; it allows trainers to identify skill gaps and provide useful feedback to learners.
- The knowledge evidence checklist can be used to record the learner's understanding of the knowledge evidence; it allows trainers to identify knowledge gaps and to provide useful feedback to learners.
- The portfolio of evidence checklist helps the trainer annotate or detail aspects of the learner's portfolio of evidence.
- The workplace assessment checklist can be used by the learner's supervisor to show workplace-based evidence of competence.
