3. Interview a parent and write down their responses to the following questions. Protect the parent's confidentiality; you do not have to mention their name.
 - Do you feel you collaborate sufficiently with service educators to develop care strategies for your child? In what ways?
 - How do you find out about your child's progress, relationships and experiences within the service? Are you satisfied with the level of communication? Why or why not?
 - How welcoming do you think the service environment and educators are? What works well and what needs to improve?
4. Describe a decision you helped a parent make. Explain the situation and what you did to ensure the parents participated in the decision.
5. How can you improve your performance as an educator when working in partnership with families?

Part D

1. List indicators about a child and their family that may indicate they need additional support from resources within the community.
2. Create a notice or computerised display that responds to a current topic of concern or interest for a parent or parents at your service. If you have no relevant topic currently, ask your supervisor or trainer/assessor to suggest one.
 - The display should focus on two organisations outside of your service that are able to support the topic and the parents needing assistance. It should aim to meet:
 - the National Quality Standard Element 6.1.3 'Current information is available to families about the service and relevant community services and resources to support parenting and family wellbeing'
 - Element 6.2.3 'The service builds relationships and engages with its community'.
 - Include in your display:
 - a clear heading so everyone knows what the topic is
 - current information about the topic
 - what assistance each organisation can offer the parents
 - a copy of any resources they provide
 - a list of resources that can be accessed
 - how the organisation and the resources can be accessed; for example, do they need a referral?
 - who to contact
 - any costs, fees or funding if relevant
 - if information is available in a language other than English.
3. How would you ensure this information remains current?
